

I know I'm not alone when I say that I love my XM radio and won't ever be without one again. There is such a difference when you have a choice of music to choose from, not to mention the fact that you are paying for that choice. You pay for satellite television.. you pay for satellite radio.. pretty simple to me!